

2001 Fruit Report Introduction

The College of Agricultural and Environmental Sciences has published the Georgia Farm Gate Value Report for several years now. As time passes, the depth and breadth of the survey and report continues to grow. In recent years, it has become evident that in order to properly value fruits grown in the state of Georgia, it would be necessary to collect more in depth information. Due to space restraints, this information cannot be published in the main annual publication.

Therefore, the Center for Agribusiness and Economic Development has decided to publish the Fruit Report. This report will highlight in more detail fruit production in Georgia. This report will allow the user to see the further breakdowns on the production types of fruits. For instance, blueberries are most often grown for fresh or frozen use. Each type has commands a different price and also can have a different yield. This report will show those prices and yields by county.

The Center hopes this new report will be a valuable tool for those interested in fruit production in Georgia.
