

A Model For Communities In Transition

Elliott Wiegand

parti

This design approaches the site through application of methods intended to help build sustainable Community identity. Rather than a location specific design, the master plan is a reflection of ideas that are applicable to communities across the country that are undergoing similar gentrifying transitions as the neighborhoods surrounding the site. Framework, Accessibility, Adaptability, Scale and Density are the driving core behind the design strategy.

